Anthony's practice covers various aspects of civil and commercial law, with a particular focus on commercial litigation, class actions and product liability.

Anthony represents clients in defending against extraordinary proceedings and obtaining, among other things, injunctions and seizures before judgment. He advises national and foreign clients, including manufacturers, financial institutions, pharmaceutical companies and local businesses.

During his articles with the Firm, Anthony was seconded to the legal department of a leading Quebec-based financial institution.

Prior to joining Blakes, he completed internships at Quebec's National Assembly and Ministry of Sustainable Development, Environment and the Fight against Climate Change, as well as at the Superior Court of Québec.

He is fluent in English and French, and has a working knowledge of Spanish.
